Wehlener Klosterberg Riesling feinherb Dr. Pauly-Bergweiler / Bernkastel-Kues

Terrior

The Wehlener Klosterberg is located in a small tributary valley on the left side of the Moselle River. The Dr. Pauly-Bergweiler Estate newly planted a parcel of 2.6 hectares in this vineyard in 2006.

The southeast-facing vineyard reaches from 210 to 240 meters above sea level. The roots of the vines grow into medium-deep clay slate soil having a high stone content. The Riesling wines from this vineyard are comparable with the filigree elegance of wines from the Saar Valley.

Description

The Klosterberg brings fine Riesling wines with racy acidity and marvelous fruit. The nose is full of white peach and apricot, underlined by the typical mineral notes of the Mosel. The lively acidity helps to counterbalance the fruity character.

Suggestion

Try this Riesling with Lemongrass-Barbecued Pork with Rice-Vermicelli Salad. It is the perfect partner for this sweet, tangy, fragrant and spicy dish.

We say:

„The Klosterberg Riesling was definitely underestimated. These wines are really fun to drink. Try it out!”
